

NOBIS
Table
By Claesson Koivisto
Rune

PRODUCT INFORMATION

Nobis is a table that was originally created for the hotel Nobis in Stockholm where Claesson Koivisto Rune was responsible for the interior design. Nobis's form can paradoxically be described as a sort of round square, that is to say, the square that constitutes the table top has no sharp angles but is characterized by a round softness. The form comes from a square, manipulated by CAD software which adds a special formula to create the final shape. The table Nobis fits well into all types of environments, and offers possibilities for many people to be seated around the table at the same time.

TECHNICAL INFORMATION

Table top in black or white compact laminate with black core or in black coloured MDF. Structure lacquered frame in black. (Table 40x40 also available in massive untreated brass and copper.)
